

“MISTLETOE LODGE”

"MISTLETOE LODGE"

View of Front Lawn, where Innumerable Minie Balls have Been Found

“Mistletoe Lodge”

“MISTLETOE LODGE,” the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Talbot, is situated on the Granny White Pike, which is a very historic and romantic old high road. The historian, Fisk, in his account of the battle of Nashville, has thrown an added charm over this pike, and so impressed a Tennessee poet that he wrote “The Granny White Pike should hold as important a place in our mind as the road leading to the Hermitage.”

Pink Rambler on East Veranda

"GLENSTRAE"